

Black Friday

BLACK FRIDAY- The best savings on time are using your crockpot instead of your stove!

While many of you fans were out before the sun this morning, shopping for great deals on holiday gifts and personal favorites, I hope you also started your crockpot before you left for the mall so that you had a hot, festive and delicious meal upon your return home.

Cyber Monday is also a great time to shop for that new crockpot online and get a gift for yourself!

I had a special gift arrive in the mail today. I ordered a few extra copies of Chile Pepper magazine which featured Dinner Is A Crock in their one pot wonder issue this December. if you haven't already, pick up a copy online, in stores or digitally. While I love the feature of my blog, there are some wonderful recipes from other cooks featured as well.
