Crock Pot Baked Apples

These baked apples will make you think very naughty thoughts.

Looking for something easy? This one is fabulous! Hot and sultry and moist. (Why do those three words sounds so naughty together?!?!) It's a baked apple, people. Calm down.

No need for a grand story or explanation. Baked apples are a great choice because the fruit is easy to find and consistent in taste all year round. I made this batch with opal apples—they are sort of the color of a golden delicious with the texture of a gala. But they cooked up really nicely and held their shape. You can try it with green apples for a more tart finish, macintosh for a sweet crisp taste or any other variety that you want to experiment with for dessert.

Crock Pot Baked Apples

Prep Time: 10 minutes Cook Time: 4 hours

Serves 6

INGREDIENTS

- 6 apples
- 3/4 c. golden raisins
- 3/4 c. dried pineapple chunks (this brand is allergen-free, too!!)
- 1/2 c. steel cut oats
- 3 T. brown sugar
- 1 T. white sugar
- 1 t ground cinnamon
- 1/2 t. ground allspice
- 1/4 t. white pepper grounds
- 1/2 c. water

DIRECTIONS

- 1. Wash and core the apple; core it twice to make a big enough opening for filling
- 2. Mix all of the dried fruit and dry filling ingredients together in a separate bowl.
- 3. Stand all of the apples up in the crock pot (oval or casserole sized works best).
- 4. Carefully fill all of the apples with the filling. Press the filling down into each open core and let the filling mound on top, too.
- 5. Pour the water into the crock pot around— not on— the apples.
- 6. Cook on low for 4 hours. Serve with vanilla greek yogurt or ice cream. Crock Pot Dulce de Leche is also an excellent topping!

Crock Pot Short Ribs

OK fans, THIS should be your new favorite holiday dish. I don't care what you celebrate, we all celebrate deliciousness. There's a little prep work involved, but it is worth every juicy morsel. I am making this dish for the upcoming Jewish New Year... and perhaps Halloween. Thanksgiving. Christmas. And an early happy Valentine's Day to me.

Since the beef is the focal point of the entire meal, I wanted to make sure I had quality beef and plenty of it. I bought six short ribs equally just over three pounds. That sounds like a lot, but you have to take into account the bones. We each ate two ribs at dinner. You can adjust the serving size as needed. I served my meat with green beans tonight and that's eat. I mean, it. I'm still thinking about eating those short ribs!

Marinating the meat is essential to get the flavors going and the apples to break down and tenderize the beef. I soaked mine for 24 hours— you could do as little as 6-8 hours, but I wouldn't go much more than a full day.

I first tried to fit everything into a gallon size bag, but that was a futile effort. You could use a bowl or storage container. I like to keep these HUGE bags on hand exactly for this type of need. Whatever you use needs to fit back into the refrigerator, don't forget that detail!

Crock Pot Short Ribs is one of the only recipes where I braise the meat before I put it into the crockpot. The flash of heat helps caramelize the flavors quickly and seal in the juices. It's worth the extra step, trust me! It's also necessary in my house to open the windows or disarm the smoke detector when braising. Something about that quick heat and sugar causes some excess "fog" in the air—that's what my kids call it, cooking "fog"!

When you are braising the meat, make sure you save the juices and marinate from the bag or container— that goodness goes straight into the crock pot. Do not dump it out! Once the meat is done braising, you just gently place the meat on top of the sauciness and let it continue its cooking all together.

Yes, there are more steps to this dish, but the end result is soft and juicy and smiles all around. And isn't that the point of holiday meals?!

Happy everything to you. I hope you enjoy this dish and everything you celebrate throughout the year.

Crock Pot Short Ribs

Serves 3 (Double or triple the recipe as needed!)

- 3 lbs beef short ribs, bone IN
- 1 c. shredded sweet onion
- 2 medium gala apples, shredded (skin on)
- 1 inch fresh ginger, peeled and then shredded
- 8 cloves garlic, whole
- 5 stalks green onion, cut the greens only into 2 inch strips
- 1/2 c. soy sauce
- 1/4 c. Mirin or rice wine
- 3 T. sesame oil
- 3 T. honey
- 1/4 c. sugar

Begin by shredding onions, apples and ginger and put into large bag or bowl. Add garlic cloves and green onions. Add remaining ingredients (except ribs) and combine well. Add beef short ribs and massage marinate onto all sides of meat. Cover bowl tightly or seal bag and refrigerate for up to 24 hours. When you are ready to proceed, remove ribs from marinate and put everything else into the crock pot. Heat pan on high and then braise all sides of short ribs quickly, but do not cook through. Add ribs to mixture already in crock pot, cover and cook on high for 3-4 hours or low for 4-6 hours.

The meat will pull away from bones when it is soft and ready. Serve bone-in with extra juice. The whole cloves of garlic will taste amazing- do not throw them out- spread them on bread or eat like candy!

Crock Pot Pumpkin Pie Applesauce

Pumpkins are not just for fall, make squash of all varieties part of your diet all year round!

Okay fans, it's April and I'm pretty sure we are all just a bit intimidated by summer swimsuit season being just around the corner. But just in case you're still holding onto those ideals of a perfect bikini body— or at least an ounce of confidence when you are poolside sipping on an adult beverage and reading a trashy magazine— I'm offering up this recipe.

I've had requests for more crockpot desserts and this one is a healthy, low-calorie version of a cross between pumpkin pie and apple pie. It will delight your sweet tooth just like two slices of pie, but to your diet— it's two servings of fruit instead.

I suggest serving this dish warm with a hearty scoop of salted caramel ice cream or with honey vanilla greek yogurt.

Crock Pot Pumpkin Pie Applesauce

serves 8-12

8 apples, peeled, cored and cubed

1/2 c. Orange juice

1 t. Cinnamon

1/2 t. Nutmeg

1/2 t. Allspice

1/4 c. Maple syrup

15 oz. can pumpkin purée

Add all ingredients to crock pot, stir and cook on high for 3-4 hours.

Crock Pot Apple Butter Pork

Fork-tender meat and an amazing balance of flavor will leave everyone in your family asking for seconds!

I won't lie, tonight's dinner was fantastic. The perfect mix of textures and flavors. It was easy to make and quick to serve and might become a top 10 favorite very soon. I wasn't even offended when my kids put ketchup on the meat, because hey— they were on their second servings and not complaining!

I'm a big fan of pork country ribs but I feel like it's a complete misnomer. When I think about ribs, I think about meat falling off of a bone. But there isn't a bone in country ribs, it's just sections of meat cut into the shape of ribs and contains a wonderful balance of meat and fat (it tends to cook off, so stop worrying). These are great for pulled pork sandwiches too, for future reference.

When you put all of these ingredients in the crock pot, you might worry about not seeing enough liquid— do not add any! The meat and the apples will ooze with flavor and moisture and it will all work out just fine. My apologies for using "ooze" to describe cooking, but when I think about cooking low and slow, it's totally an ooze, not a rush of flavor. Ooooooze.

This is a great recipe for any time of year, but especially great in the fall if you can get fresh, local apples and make your own apple butter. But there is no shame in buying it premade and ready to go... the outcome will be very similar!

Crock Pot Apple Butter Pork

Serves 8

- 2 lbs country ribs
- 2 gala apples, cut off the core and then into thick slices
- 1 sweet onion, cut into half and then into slices
- 1/2 cup chunky apple butter (chunky apple sauce will work too but the seasonings won't be as intense)
- 4 sprigs of fresh thyme

Put meat in the bottom of crock pot, then layer the rest of the flavors. Cook on high 3-4 hours. Meat will be fork-tender and apples and onions should be soft, maybe a little mushy, but not disintegrating. It's good if the leaves fall off the thyme- please do not ingest the twigs. Enjoy!

Crock Pot Spicy Applesauce

Ok fans, let me put it this way.... my dad dubbed this "ass-kickin' applesauce" and he's a respectable man. It's spicy and tangy and might tingle your tongue a little (especially if you use the full 1/2 t. of cayenne pepper); but this dish is also flavorful in ways that normal applesauce or apple butter just does not compare.

Here are my top three FAVORITE ways to enjoy this spicy applesauce:

Thanksgiving— leftover turkey sandwich on wheat bread— use this applesauce instead of mayonnaise to rock your taste buds to a happy holiday tune.

Chanukah— one potato latke+ one tablespoon cold sour cream + one scoop spicy applesauce= a celebration in your mouth.

Dessert— serve this spicy applesauce warm on top of a scoop of french vanilla ice cream for a hot and sweet treat.

I definitely recommend adding this to your holiday table over the next few weeks. Enjoy and happy holidays!

8 medium apples (any red, crisp variety) peeled, cored and cut into chunks

1/2 c. rum

1 t. cinnamon

1/2 t. black pepper

1/4 t. (OR UP TO 1/2 t.) cayenne pepper

1 can jellied cranberry sauce

Put apples in first, then seasonings, then rum. Stir well. Cook on high 3-4 hours. Add cranberry sauce and then use a hand blender to puree the applesauce. Cook on low one more hour. Enjoy as a side or as a spread or topping.

Crock Pot Escalloped Apples

This recipe is the direct result of two completely different factors=

- 1. we've been getting great fall apples and need to use some up, especially the ones with bruises
- 2. it's almost the holiday season and I'm trying to find lower calories, but equally delicious dishes to serve up as dessert

This recipe is best served warm with a scoop of either vanilla ice cream or just a dollop of whipped cream. It tastes like the inside of a warm apple pie, but barely has more calories that a cup of applesauce. It's soothing and comforting to the whole body and there is no reason to save this dish for dessert— try it for breakfast with your oatmeal, as a side to lunch or dinner or as a snack at any point of the day!

Unlike applesauce, this dish should be made with large chunks of apples. As they cook down, the apples might fall apart a little bit, but that will help the juices flow. Do not overcook this recipe or you will wind up with apple butter.

8 medium apples, peeled and cored and cut into large chunks

2 T. salted butter

1/2 c. brown sugar

1 t. cinnamon

pinch of nutmeg

1/2 t. black pepper

1 T. vanilla extract

1/4 c. cold water

1 t. corn starch

Put apples in the crock pot first, then sprinkle with brown sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, black pepper and drizzle with vanilla. Put butter on top of mixture, it will melt as it heats. Cook on low for 4 hours or until apples are softened, but still firm. Dissolve corn starch in water and then pour over apple mixture and stir. Turn crock pot off and let sauce thicken until it gets syrupy and easily coats the apple chunks. Serve warm.

(Makes 8 servings)

Crock Pot Apple Brown Betty

Your crock pot isn't just for cooking main dishes, I'm on a kick cooking desserts too! If you are a fan of baked apples or even just apple sauce, you'll love this take on what I call "apple brown betty". If you look up the meaning, it's still unclear who this "betty" is and why her apples were so brown. Most sources date the dish back to colonial times and confirm that the dessert is truly as American as... well, apple pie.

The flavor and composition of my apple brown betty is similar to a cobbler, so if you'd like to try this with peaches, berries or any combination of fresh fruit, give it a try and please post a comment and let us all know how it turns out. Enjoy!

- 6-8 medium apples, peeled, cored and sliced
- 1/3 cup brown sugar, packed
- 1 T. vanilla
- 1 t. cinnamon
- 1/4 t. nutmeg

For the crumbles-

- 2 cups of granola
- 1/2 c. sugar
- 1 t. cinnamon
- 2 t. melted butter

Put apples in crock pot first and then rest of filling ingredients. Toss together so that the apples get coated. Then, in a separate bowl, mix together crumbles ingredients and then pour on top of apples, but do not mix. Cook on low for 3 hours. Serve a scoop of dessert with a scoop of ice cream— the warm sweetness and the cold creaminess are a delightful combination.

Crock Pot Blueberry Cobbler

Forget dinner— let's skip straight to dessert. What could possibly be better than dumping everything in the crock pot and having your entire house filled with the glorious, sweet, satisfying smell of freshly baked dessert?! Cooking dessert in the crock pot requires a little more attention to detail than the normal dump-and-go meal prep, but I think you'll really like this recipe. In all honesty, it still only took me 6 minutes from start to finish to get everything into the crock pot. Since this is a slow cooking method, you won't dry out or burn the edges of your tasty treat like you might in the regular oven. Plus, it is way better to use the crock pot for a few hours than to heat up the entire house with conventional baking.

This cobbler recipe can also be made using a variety of other fruits. Go for what is in season, grown locally or on sale in the freezer section; I would suggest trying cherries, peaches, apples, mixed berries or maybe some ripe pears. It you want this dish to be even more divine, throw in a 1/2 c. of butterscotch morsels or chocolate chips with the top layer. Enjoy!

- 1 c. flour
- 2 t. baking powder
- 1/2 t. salt
- 1/2 c. granulated sugar
- 1/2 c. packed brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2 t. vanilla

- 2 t. butter, melted
- 1/2 c. half and half or milk
- 16 oz. fresh or frozen blueberries

topping:

- 1 c. quick oats
- 1/3 c. flour
- 2 t. melted butter
- 1/2 t. cinnamon
- 2 T. brown sugar

Spray the entire crock pot with a non-stick spray. In a separate bowl, mix together the flour, baking powder, salt, sugars, eggs and vanilla. Add the melted butter and half and half. Dump in blueberries and stir well. Pour into crock pot. Then, in another separate bowl, cut together the topping ingredients. Sprinkle topping on top of mixture already in crock pot and DO NOT MIX. Cook 4 hours on low or 2 hours on high.
